

FINE ART SHIPPERS RECOMMEND: ART EXHIBITIONS TO VISIT NEXT WEEK

October 1, 2017

If you are searching a trustworthy art delivery service or true professionals specializing in shipping fine art, look no further than Fine Art Shippers! Why? That's simple! We are not just experts in everything related to local and international transportation of art and antiques – we do enjoy art in its many forms! This means that we handle every piece of art with the utmost care and attention, thus ensuring it is delivered to the destination in its perfect condition. Moreover, we can give you advice on how you can pack the artwork and prepare it for a long-distance move yourself, not to mention that our team of fine art moving professionals can recommend the best art exhibitions and shows to visit in New York. For the next week, we have picked the following:

“The Potential of Women” by Polly Apfelbaum

Inspired by Rudolph deHarek's cover design for the 1963 book “The Potential of Woman,” the Polly Apfelbaum's exhibition of new works includes wall-mounted ceramics, hand-woven rugs, gouaches, and large paintings spread out on the floor, all dedicated to women and their empowerment.

Where: Alexander Gray Associates, Chelsea

When: Until October 21, 2017